the phase is self-contained [col. 10, lines 4-8] and independent [col. 10, lines 33-39; col. 10, lines 58-64] of prior or subsequent phases, but may be dependent [col. 12, lines 33-42; col. 26, lines 23-27] on completion of a prior phase to facilitate phase order; and dispatching [col. 16, lines 17-19] a section of said plurality of sections utilizing said phase control configuration data.

5. As for claims 2, 11, and 23, Freiburger et al teach modifying said Web site in response to an alteration of said phase control configuration data [col. 17, lines 49-57].

6. As for claims 3, 12, and 24, Freiburger et al teach wherein said phase control configuration data specifies [e.g., col. 4, lines 41-55] an order of said plurality of sections and dispatching a section of said plurality of sections utilizing said phase control configuration data comprises selecting said section of said plurality of sections utilizing said order and displaying a Web page via a Web browser client application [col. 15, lines 19-40; col. 18, line 56-col. 19, line 5] across a communication network in response to selecting of said plurality of sections.

7. As for claims 4, 17-19, and 25, Freiburger et al teach said Web site includes a plurality of phases and selecting said section of said plurality of sections utilizing said order comprises selecting a phase of said plurality phases utilizing said phase control configuration data [col. 18, line 56-col. 19, line 5].

8. As for claims 5, and 26, Freiburger et al teach displaying a Web page via a Web browser client application across a communication network comprises displaying a Web page including dynamic content via a Web browser client application [e.g., fig. 6].

9. As for claims 6, 13, 20, and 27, Freiburger et al teach said phase control configuration data further specifies input data to be collected by said section of said plurality of sections and collecting said input data utilizing a phase control module application [col. 2, line 63-col. 3, line 10].

10. As for claims 7, 14, and 28, Freiburger et al teach receiving said input data via said Web page and collecting said input data utilizing a phase control module application in response to receiving said input data via said Web page [col. 18, line 56-col. 19, line 5].
